evening reception, formal opening

29.10. Full working day

Human Rights and Human Rights Education (HRE)
in the youth field are gaining importance in European political agendas.
When it comes to the values and principles of youth work practice, it however remains unclear to what extend today's youth work practice consistently stems from a culture of Human Rights at its core, and to what extend youth workers see themselves as carriers of values of Human Rights

THE CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS INCLUDE 5 KEY TOPICS, INCLUDING:

- E+ National Agencies mainstreaming Human Rights Education
- Competence models and links to Human Rights Education
- Inspiring better policy conditions for mainstreaming Human Rights Education
 - Cross-sectoral cooperation across various sectors and policies
 - Different settings of youth work and its relationship to Human Rights

The results of the conference will be conveyed as policy recommendations to responsible bodies of the Erasmus+ programme and further be taken on board in youth policy development
